Our core competences

We think in solutions

“

Our customers benefit from our flexibility, extensive experience, comprehensive cross-sector knowledge and efficient project management.

Engineering/automation/project management

We believe that every project needs to be planned carefully according to the actual needs of each single customer while providing best support across the entire duration of the project: technical expertise, experienced project management while remaining flexible in every way.

Power Engineering

Project planning, network analysis or medium-voltage protection testing: we are your partner regarding individual customer requirements. We help you to enhance competitiveness and to increase and implement energy and overall efficiency.

Industrial assembly

We offer short, medium and long-term support, consultation and above all reliable implementation for all aspects of industrial assembly. No matter where our customers are based, we're here to assist you worldwide.

Our core competences

We think in solutions

Service and maintenance

Focused on maintenance, improvement strategies or coordinating new projects – our portfolio covers a wide range of services. Getting to the heart of our customers' plants and production sequences is a major part of our service.

Installation

The expert personnel ensures a coordinated and secure transition of an installation or machine into safe, error-free operation, thereby generating lasting value.

Mechanical and systems engineering

As a versatile mechanical and systems engineering partner we can give our customers interdisciplinary value and the confidence to plan ahead. When various requirements come together, this team stands out with all-round expertise in mechanical and systems engineering, safety technology and R&D services.

EI&C for gas application and process technology

Thanks to our experience throughout the years we are specialized in meeting the needs of the petrochemical industry. We provide customized solutions with maximum safety and up-to-date expertise in standards and regulations in gas plants.

The PMS family

Our focus is on people

Employees are an essential element of our success

An above-average connection of our employees is the result of a good work-life balance which is due to flexible working hours and involvement of families at company events. Another benefit are free delicious meals for our employees on a daily basis.

Responsible employee management and development are the hallmarks of our appreciative and informal corporate culture and are strengthening the cohesion within the PMS-Team.

Corporate culture - values

Appreciation, honesty, openness, fairness, eye level, solidarity, trust, decisiveness and courage are the essentials of our corporate culture. The practiced values are shaping the daily interaction and provide orientation.

Development opportunities & future prospects

Within the PMS Academy we emphasize individual support of our employees, qualitative apprentice training and further education – resulting in TOP qualified employees who have varied career opportunities.

Sustainable business management

How we interpret corporate responsibility

Health and safety

In order to ensure that the topic is well-embedded in the management and to create awareness, inspections and site visits by the management take place at regular and planned intervals.

“

Operational health management – a major concern for our top management...

Safety at work

We are constantly working to improve the occupational health and safety conditions for our employees. We always keep an eye on the long-term goal of "zero accidents at work".

Environmental policy

As a modern, dynamic and forward-thinking company, PMS is committed to the highest quality, safety, environmental and energy efficiency standards.

We are setting ambitious goals – finding customized solutions remains a fundamental principle.
